CurryMUD Cheatsheet

Abbreviation

Nearly all identifiers in CurryMUD may be abbreviated. This means that in many cases you need not type the entire name of an item, a character, a command, or a help article.

Listing And Examining Things

Command	Example	Effect
look	look	get a description of your current room, including a list of things in the room
	look mhuman	look at the male human in the room inventory	inventory	get a list of the items you're carrying inventory apple	examine the apple you're carrying equipment	equipment	get a list of your readied equipment
	equipment sword	examine the sword you're wielding

Coins

There are cp (copper pieces), sp (silver pieces), and gp (gold pieces).

ср	sp	gp
1 cp	1	1/10
1 sp	10	1
1 gp	100	10

Location Prefixes

Prefix	Location	Example	Effect
i-	inventory	smell i-flask	smell the (contents of the) flask in your inventory
e-	equipment	smell e-boots	smell the boots you're wearing
r-	room	smell r-flower	smell the flower in the room

Other Prefixes

Prefix	Purpose	Example	Effect
•	ordinal number	look 4.necklace	examine the fourth necklace in the room
1	amount	get 2/knife	pick up the first two knives in the room
1	all	show 'earring hanako	show all of the earrings in your inventory to Hanako
		drop '	drop everything in your inventory (including coins)

Combining Prefixes

You may combine a location prefix with another prefix. The location prefix must come first.

Example	Effect
smell r-2/flower	smell the first two flowers in the room
show e-'earring hanako	show all the earrings you're wearing to Hanako

Prefixes Used With Coins

Prefix	Purpose	Example	Effect
/	amount	put 50/gp sack	put 50 of your gold pieces in your sack
		remove 50/coins sack	remove 50 of your coins from your sack
•	all	put 'gp sack	put all of your gold pieces in your sack
		put 'coins sack	put all of your coins in your sack

Emoting

Symbol	Purpose	Example	Effect
@	your name	emote shielding her eyes from the sun, @ looks out across the plains	[Shielding her eyes from the sun, Hanako looks out across the plains.]
@'s	your name in possessive	<pre>@'s leg twitches involuntarily as she laughs with gusto</pre>	[Hanako's leg twitches involuntarily as she laughs with gusto.]
>taro	target Taro	emote slowly turns her head to look directly at >taro	[Hanako slowly turns her head to look directly at Taro.]
>taro's	target Taro, in possessive	emote places her hand firmly on >taro's shoulder	[Hanako places her hand firmly on Taro's shoulder.]
		<pre>emote ignoring >mnymph, @ takes >taro's hand and gestures eastward</pre>	[Ignoring the male nymph, Hanako takes Taro's hand and gestures eastward.]

Emotes And Expressive Commands Inside Other Commands

Symbol	Purpose	Example	Effect
;	begin an emote	telepathy taro ; gives you her full attention	[Hanako] [Hanako gives you her full attention.]
		channel hunt ; suggests that >dog stay put for now	(hunt) Hanako: [Hanako suggests that dog stay put for now.]
		question; throws her arms up in exasperation	(Question) Hanako: [Hanako throws her arms up in exasperation.]
=	begin an expressive command	telepathy taro =nodagree	[Hanako] [Hanako nods to you in agreement.]
		channel hunt =slowclap	(hunt) Hanako: <with a="" claps="" dog.="" enthusiasm,="" for="" hanako="" lack="" mocking="" of="" slowly=""></with>
		question =comfort taro	(Question) Hanako: <hanako comforts="" taro.=""></hanako>

Addressing A Message

Use > to address a message.

Example	Effect
say >taro nice to mee, you, Taro	Hanako says to Taro, "Nice to meet you, Taro."
felinoidean >taro he can't be trusted	Hanako says to Taro in felinoidean, "He can't be trusted."
channel hunt >taro i'm still waiting in the clearing	(hunt) Hanako: (to Taro) I'm still waiting in the clearing.
<pre>question >taro try typing "help cheatsheet"</pre>	(Question) Hanako: (to Taro) Try typing "help cheatsheet".

Adverbial Phrases

You may use an adverbial phrase to describe how an utterance is spoken. Adverbial phrases are delimited by square brackets.

Example	Effect
<pre>say [in a high-pitched voice] stop pressuring me!</pre>	Hanako says in a high-pitched voice, "Stop pressuring me!"
<pre>say [quietly] >taro she's completely round the twist</pre>	Hanako says quietly to Zappy, "She's completely round the twist"
<pre>say >taro [with some hesitation] i suppose you're right</pre>	Hanako says to Taro with some hesitation, "I suppose you're right."
<pre>dwarvish [irately] now fetch me another beer!</pre>	Hanako says irately in dwarvish, "Now fetch me another beer!"

Room Fixtures

A "room fixture" is a permanent feature of a room (such as a sign) with which you can interact via one or more commands. There are two things to keep in mind: you may not abbreviate the name of a room fixture, and you may need to tack on the r- prefix to indicate that you are targeting an object in your current room.

Undocumented Commands

There do exist commands for which there is no help available via the help and ? commands. Typically, undocumented commands may only be used in certain rooms. One example is the trash command, which only works when you are in a room with a trash bin. Keep in mind that the names of undocumented commands may not be abbreviated.